

Vanessa Arseneau

Vanessa is the Program Support and Tech Alchemist for the Level 52 team and clients. With over a decade of experience in leadership, project and event management, and communications strategies, her proficiency in content delivery and logistics guarantees an optimal experience for participants in our programs.

Vanessa, identifies as our "in-house nerd," actively seeks fresh perspectives to enhance program delivery and back-of-house systems.

Driven by a passion for mentoring and inspiring others, Vanessa has built a robust personal brand as a coach, mentor, and educator. She has led workshops and conducted both online and in-person training sessions focusing on personal development, leadership, communication, branding, and marketing strategies. Vanessa earned her Coaching and Training certification under the esteemed John C. Maxwell and has received accolades in public speaking in both French and English.
